Stars of the Week

Early Years

Our young chefs in training have been up to some sweet, savoury goodness treats and tasty adventures as they have embarked on the IPC Unit on food processing. It's been a great adventure so far as they have been discussing about healthy foods vs unhealthy foods, the food groups, our choices and how to prepare the various foods and the tools necessary. We wonder what our creative and adventurous chefs will prepare next!

-Dr. Seuss

The Year 1 and 2 children thoroughly enjoyed our outing to the Elephant Orphanage and Discovery Centre.

They learnt many wonderful things and wrote about their visit this week for creative writing. Some of them were able to recall some of the information that was shared with them which they were able to put on paper and into well constructed sentences. Well done Year 1 and 2!

Year 1&2

Diwali Free Dress Day

We would like to thank Mrs. Ann George (a TPL parent) who shared the history of Diwali with the children and the importance of it as a major festival in India and around the world. We were treated with something sweet and the children each got a sparkler to brighten up their day

Year 1&2

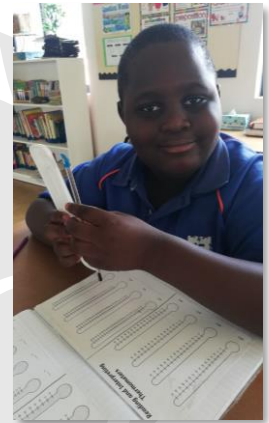

We have been focusing on number patterns this week and will be continuing next week. The children enjoyed making their own real life geometric patterns today and this really helped them understand the difference between a regular and random pattern.

Year 3&4

In English we played a game to establish if words were plurals or possessive nouns. We had a lot of fun. Caden was the winner of our game!

We have learnt about different thermometers and how to read a thermometer accurately in Mathematics. We now know that we measure temperature in degrees Celcius.

Year 3&4

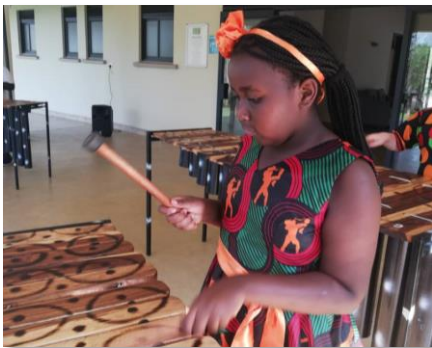

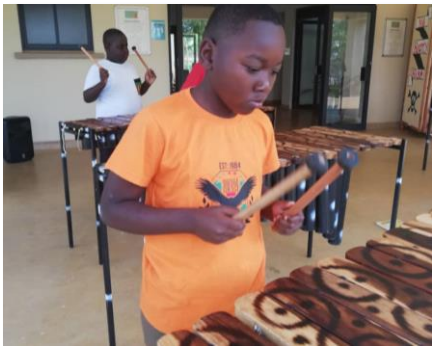

Visit to the Elephant Orphanage and Discovery Centre.

Music

At TPL, our musical arts program involves, among many other activities, Marimba playing. The Marimba or Silimba or Amalimba as it is locally known is a resonant African musical instrument with wooden bars and gourd/pipe resonators.

Here, our Year 3&4 students playing a rendition of 'Tiyende pamodzi' during the Independence Celebration.
